

Meet Joe

Joe hasn't always been apart of the YMCA. He moved here from San Diego in 2015 after retiring from the Navy. He took his time finding his way to us at the YMCA, eventually coming in to use our pool. After joining the YMCA in February of 2018 he came to swim one day and the pool was closed. When he asked why and wanted to talk to some one more about it, that's when he met Lynette. They got to talking and she asked if he wanted to lifeguard.

After some consideration he decided he would and he says that " the love and support from the staff has made my life very rewarding" . He now spends most days here at the Y either lifeguarding or swimming before jumping on his Harley and riding around town. We are thankful to have you as a staff and friend Joe!
